JEAN-PIERRE MURRAY-KLINE

'A FUTURE THINKER'

THE BUSINESS AND ENVIRONMENTAL TECHNOLOGIST.

CAREER.

Jean-Pierre is a South African serial e-entrepreneur, published author, and change champion who has worked in over 300 types of industries in some capacity or another. His own online businesses have generated millions of Rands and involved sectors such as law, web & app development, events & entertainment, property, technical services, media, and tourism.

He has travelled to over 180 cities worldwide and is extremely active as a business and environmental technologist. In addition to his own projects, he researches and consults on all things online: marketing, reputation, compliance, law, and e-security, and also offers strategy workshops and scenario sessions on future thinking with a key focus on technology, the environment, and global influences. Jean-Pierre is often asked to be a guest speaker on a variety of subjects he continuously studies and writes about.
